Molly Fiander

Qualified veterinary nurse, blogger and veterinary entrepreneur

“Hi. I'm Molly. A qualified veterinary nurse who has invented an platform set to revolutionise the veterinary industry.”

This is my media pack....

A valuable media resource

I'm a media 'Go To' for anything related to the veterinary industry

Background

Age 13, I did work experience at my local veterinary practice, later taking on a diploma and then falling into the locum career path..which was the best thing that has ever happened to me.

Achievements

I've created a technology platform that promotes direct communication between practices and locums. 'Management for Locums' was launched in 2023 and is now host to over 2000 veterinary professionals offering opportunities to become locums and diversify their income.

Our phase two development is currently in progress. set to launch 2025!

Technology

I'm on a mission to harness technology to revolutionise the veterinary industry. With our subscription-based MFL platform, vets and locums can upload work shifts, speak directly with their work community, and build a locum bank.

Boxing for a Cause: Turning Fear into Strength

After experiencing attacks that left me with a deep-rooted fear of men, I've embarked on a boxing journey not only to reclaim my confidence but to transform that fear into strength.

This journey has been about more than physical training—it's a step toward overcoming trauma and empowering myself to feel safe and resilient again.

With this fight,

I'm raising funds for the #standwithus Rosa Fund, supporting women who face their own challenges.

Together, we can create a world where women are empowered to live without fear.
